What's up Tim, It's been a great year, really, well forty up there at forty year old, it's and well good & why not, it's out, it's been great knowing & I'm looking forward to the years ahead so I'll keep moving,
(as usual) & I'll be with you soon!

Mark (Dallas) Prakes

P.S. Love to Virginia!

Hello Sweetheart I know I didn't go to B.A. with you but I thought I'd write in your year book any way. I am so glad that Mark (Dallas) Pinales brought us together. I will never forget that night I met you, and our 1st kiss, and now our love that grows stronger by the day. My love for you is wider than any ocean, deeper than any sea, and taller than any mountain. I want to spend the rest of my life with you. I will stick with you through thick and thin and no matter what happens (fights & misunderstandings) I will always, forever and always and till the end of time, love you.

Love, Taiiha
(your Sweetheart)

volume xxx

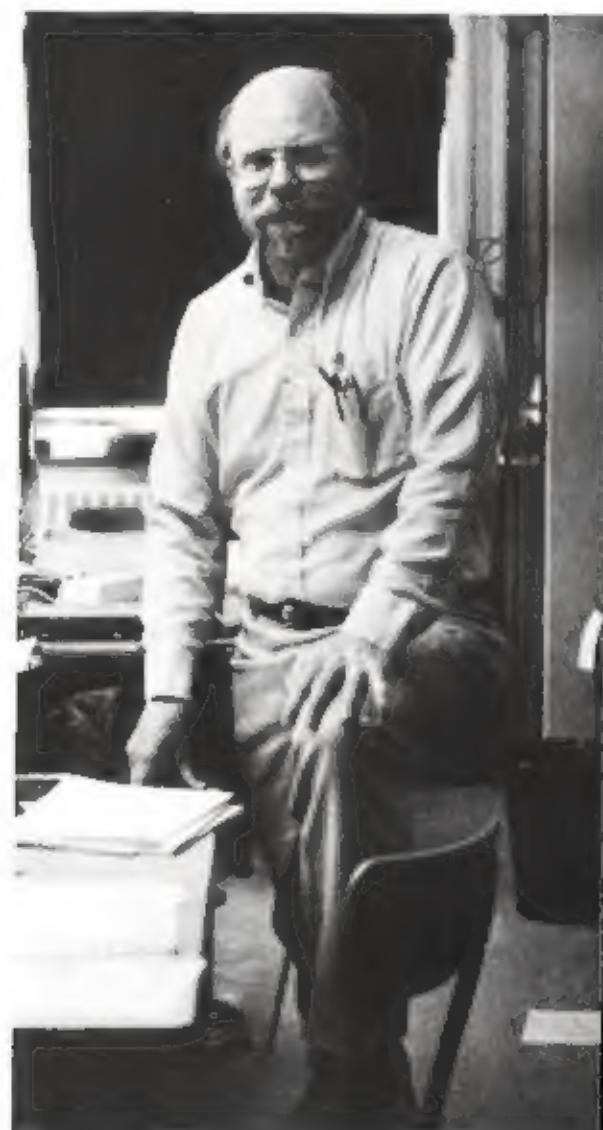

This school year was a special year for Bryan Adams with a new principal, new teachers, and new policies. Seniors faced the separation that many experience with graduation. There were sad endings and joyful beginnings.

The challenges
were often tough, and although the
road wasn't easy, we succeeded. In a way it was not only more spirit-
lifting but in fact,
bigger than ever!

Man for all reasons
Mr. David Forgey

For being himself, lively and colorful, the 1987 El Conquistador has been dedicated to a gentleman for whom this school has been a better place, our assistant principal, Mr. David Forgey.

STUDENT LIFE

There was a lot of people all around the room.

Just Can't Wait!

On August 28, 1986, the latest additions to B.A. received their first look at high school. The assembly opened with the R.O.T.C. presenting the flags. Mr. Salinas introduced our new principal, Dr. Pittman, and the faculty. The Bryan Adams Cougar B.A.nd dashed into the auditorium and gave a spectacular performance. The new J.V.C., the Varsity Cheerleaders, and the Bryan Adams Belles introduced Cougar Spirit to the Freshmen. They reported to homeroom, roamed the new school and searched for familiar faces in halls. In the lunchroom, the various organizations served refreshments and introduced the opportunities available to them. Leaving the school, Freshmen looked forward with anticipation to their first day.

Putting In Extra Hours

For some students, the day began as early as 7:00 a.m. Belles perfected their routines in the gym while the B.A.nd practiced their music for upcoming games, and cheerleaders practiced new and old stunts or cheers. Some students arrived early in order to finish their homework in the library. Others came to talk with friends and roam the halls.

After the 4:00 p.m. bell, all students departed their own way. Freshman, Junior Varsity, and Varsity football teams practiced their winning strategies late into the evening. Several clubs and organizations met to plan activities and other students went to various part time jobs, ranging from clothing stores to restaurants. No matter what time of day, the students at Bryan Adams are always ready for action.

Never As Good As The First Time

Being the first of the year, the Back to School Dance on September 12, 1986, offered students the chance to get away from the hectic life of school. It was the first and last dance held in the gym because the floors were refinished in November. The majority of students at the dance forgot about the hassles of the first few weeks of school. Also providing an opportunity for students to get to know each other, the dance let newcomers to the school mingle with some veteran students. Again, music was provided by Parties Portable.

That Cougar Spirit

Each Friday during football season, spirited students prepared themselves for the morning pep assemblies. The R.O.T.C. always presented the colors and led the students in the Pledge of Allegiance. Choir members proceeded to sing the National Anthem. The B.A.nd played the fight song as the Varsity Cheerleaders ran in and led everyone in various cheers. The B.A.nd, Majorettes, and the Belles also gave a great performance. Most Valuable Players were announced and, on some occasions, spirit sticks were given to particular organizations who expressed the "Cougar Spirit." The weekly pep talk by Coach Edwards told of the past game's events. Traditionally, the pep assemblies closed with the singing of the Alma Mater.

To celebrate going into district play undefeated, a night pep rally was announced. The B.A.nd, Belles, Varsity Cheerleaders, and Feature Twirlers all performed with increased finesse. The rally let everyone know who had the most spirit in Dallas.

FRIENDS

They are always there. Everybody has them. You can't live with them and you can't live without them. Pals. Com-rads. Associates, or just plain old freinds. Whatever you call them they are the same thing: somebody you can share things with and laugh with at jokes. Friendships are built on trust and thought and are often hard to perfect; they are vital to making life easier to handle.

S-P-I-R-I-T

Spirit Week this past year was a great success. Students took a bigger part than in past years, and this made Spirit Week one of the most memorable weeks of school. During Spirit Week, there was a code of dress for each day. Tuesday was College Day, Wednesday was M.A.S.H. Day, Thursday was Fifties Day, and Friday, of course, was Green and White Day. Our Homecoming assembly against Skyline was the biggest of the year, and probably the most entertaining ever.

We're coming home!

Students went all out for this year's homecoming dance, held at the Sheraton Dallas Hotel. Closing the festivities of Spirit Week, the event was the grand finale to the regular football season. Music was provided by Joe Folger, one of the favorite personalities at KEGL. This year's homecoming queen Veronica Vera, and her court, composed of Freshman Amy Cochran, Sophomore Tracy Pogue, and Junior Delilah Fantanillas, were crowned as well. This homecoming dance was better than ever.

As the minutes go by . . .

Preparing for homecoming began way before the dance. The Student Council selected the dance location during the first few weeks of school. Girls either bought or had their dresses made for the special occasion. Guys and girls alike worried about a date. Orders for mums were placed. Tickets were bought and plans for before and after the dance were devised. Finally, when the big day arrived, people still panicked about minor complications. All the hard work paid off in the end and the results were seen in the faces of the homecoming participants.

LUNCHROOM DANCING

This past year the Senior Council sponsored their December dance which turned out to have a couple of new twists. First of all, there was a brand-new, fresh, exciting location — the cafeteria! For days beforehand remarks and questions could be heard like "They're having it WHERE?"

and "Oh no! Not the Barfeteria!" Secondly, no one quite knew where the disc jockey came from. Was it Parties Portable? The banner said it was KISS 106 FM, but the music sounded like K104! At any rate, all was overcome and the dance drew a bigger crowd than ever, thanks to the work of the Senior Council.

CARE TO DANCE, MOM?

This year the Bryan Adams P.T.A. once again held their annual dance; and this year, because of the installation of the new gym floor, it was held in the school cafeteria. Many parents could be seen setting up for the dance as well as taking money and selling soft drinks. It attracted quite a number of people from each grade and had a good mixture of people from each. The music and D.J. were provided by the well-known Parties Portable. Despite the fact that the music did not offer a great variety, the students made the best of it. The P.T.A. dance was successful.

Stylin'

Fads never stay the same, but the fall and winter months held a school full of very style conscious students. Skirts of all lengths, bows, silver jewelry, metallic accessories, huge sweaters, sleek trousers, suspenders, wild printed shirts, outrageous shoes, all of this coincides with the careful and often eccentric hairstyles. No socks and plenty of mousse. Almost anything goes. The fads have even changed since the time of this publication.

THE HIGH LIFE

The Elite. The Chosen. These are the words that come to mind when one thinks of Seniors. Many activities this past year displayed the true attitude of Seniors. One of these was the senior shirt. With these, Seniors could be easily identified. Seniors also chose their invitations for graduation. Later, events such as Senior Skip Day, trips to Padre or Europe during Spring Break, and missed school days due to senioritis were common. Some times were sad, like anticipating graduation and having to say goodbye to friends. One thing is sure . . . A Senior's life is the only life.

When The Girls Wear The Pants

This past February, the girls at Bryan Adams got a little taste of what it is like for the guys during the rest of the year. On February 13th, the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance was held at the Holiday Inn in Garland. For weeks beforehand, girls could be heard as they asked the guys for a date. The varsity cheerleaders sponsored the dance, and a court was held. The winners were, Rodney Vera, Freshman Squire; Noni Jarnigan, Sophomore Duke; Todd Hancock, Junior Prince; and Trey Kelley, Senior King. The dance attracted many couples and was terrific.

Undefeated Pre-District Sets Pace for District

The Cougars had an outstanding Pre-District season. Five wins and no losses was not a bad start. A combination of a strong running and passing game made the offense one of the best in Texas. While defense held every opponent to an average of eight points per game. Our opening game against Mesquite was vital in that we got a good start. The final score was Bryan Adams 27-Mesquite 7. Since the arrival of our new coaches Bryan Adams has not won a game against North Garland, Yet this year, things have changed. Our Defense held North Garland scoreless, while our offense scored two touchdowns to win the game. The game against Tyler Lee was one of great importance, since one of ex-coaches was coaching for the Rebels. Once again the Cougars showed what it takes and beat Tyler Lee 19-13. The game against W. T. White was too close for comfort. The Cougars edged by with a 21-20 victory. The team felt they just did not prepare well enough for the game. Bryan Adams swept across Bishop Lynch, 40-0. The second shut-out of the year. This game against the Friars set a good pace for District.

Better Than Most

The Cougars started district play with a BANG by defeating S.O.C. 27-12. The game against Samuel was a close one 7-6. Roosevelt was the most important game of the year and by far it would determine the District Championship. The Cougars were confident of another victory. Yet, the score showed different: Roosevelt — 13, Bryan Adams — 7. Coming back from a defeat proved no easy task. The Cougars and the score showed it: Spruce — 10, Bryan Adams — 7. Skyline was our Homecoming opponent this year. The Cougars wanted to go out in style and they did. Bryan Adams 27, Skyline 14.

Pick of the Crop

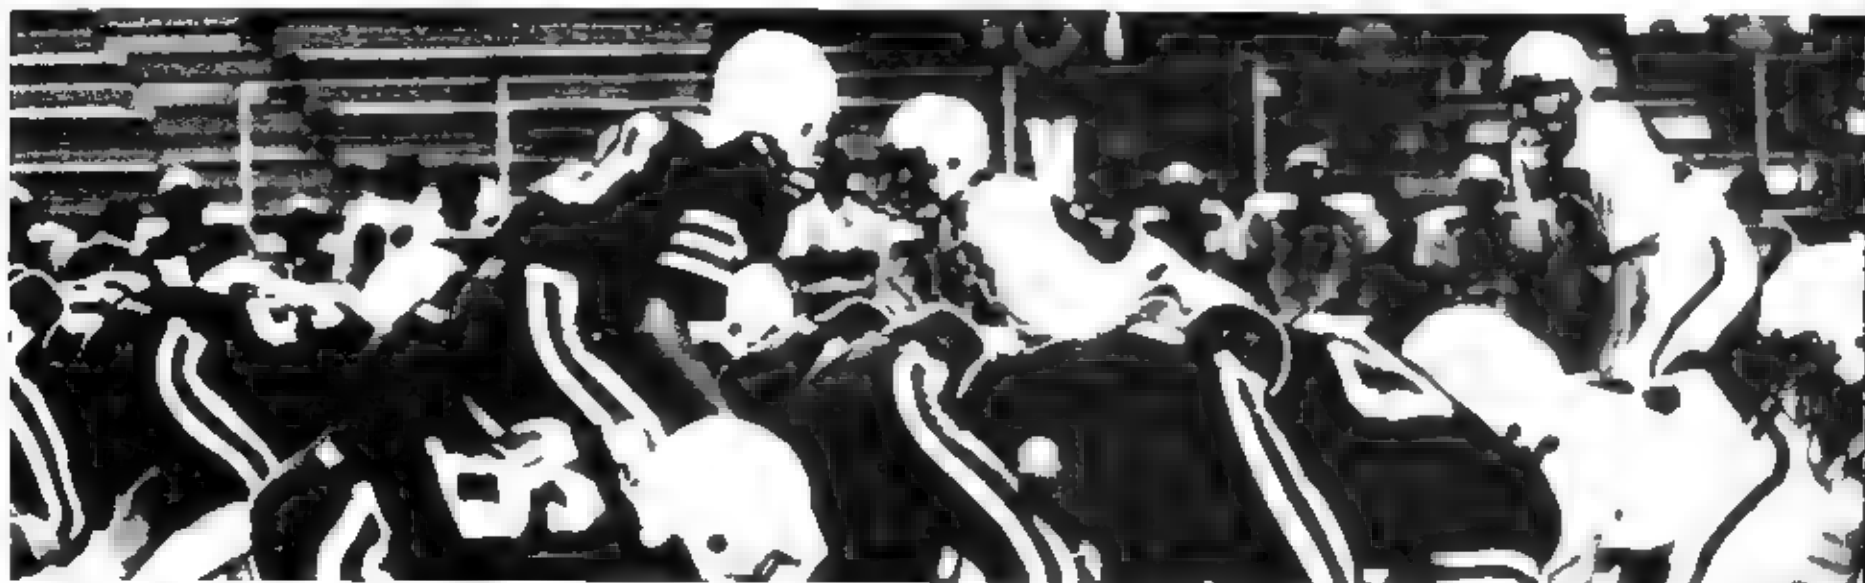

This year's All-District selections did not come as a surprise to any of us. On First Team Defense was Oscar Long, Irish Lewis, and Shayne Currin. Second Team Defense was Chris Twitty. Landon Perry, Flo Contreras, Dane Thompson, and Lincoln Coleman were on First Team Offense. John Martin was selected for the Second Team Offense. The players elected for Honorable Mention were Dennis Stewart, Fred Hamilton, Keith Miller, Paul Evans, Duke Stone, Benny Perry, and Rodney Land. Lincoln Coleman received Offensive Player of the Year for District 10-5A.

Champions in Spirit

At a glance the Junior Varsity football team seemed to have a gruelling season. As you look deeper though, many good things have come out of this season. Every week the J.V. practiced with Varsity. In doing this, the J.V. strengthened in power and experience. Varsity could not have won eight straight games without them. One reason for Junior Varsity's ill-fortuned season was that the team sacrificed ten sophomores, who would have originally played JV, to the Varsity team.

Coach Freeman and Coach Johnson headed up this group of young men. Even though every loss was hard to accept the players came back every week with the right attitude to be champions in their own minds and the minds of the coaches. Looking towards the future, the Junior Varsity team has outstanding potential to develop into a strong Varsity football team in 1987.

For the Freshman Football team, it was a year of learning and acquainting themselves with a new football system. These young athletes improved their athletic abilities and techniques under the guidance of Coach Mark Giddens and Coach Dolph Regelsky. This football team only lost eight players due to grades. With great enthusiasm the Freshmen defeated W. T. White and Roosevelt. They had a good attitude and greatly improved throughout the season. Coach Giddens said the Freshmen are all looking forward to spring training and need to work on the weights. Although the Freshmen only won two games, they never lost by a blow out. They always had a score on the board.

The 1986-87 Varsity Volleyball team started the season off well by taking fourth place in the Adamson Tournament. Their first game was against Skyline and the Lady Cougars put up a good fight, but the games ended in a 2-1 split with Skyline victorious. Coach Elsie Moreno said that the girls did well despite all of their handicaps. Having only two returning lettermen, the team was made up mostly of newcomers. Many players were benched either because of injuries or bad grades. Coach Moreno said she is looking forward to next year when the girls will have more experience and knowledge of the sport. The captains of the Varsity Volleyball team were Michelle Martinez and Dana Reynolds.

This year was a first for the B.A. Volleyball team. Not only did they have a Junior Varsity Team, but they had enough interested Freshmen to make up a Freshman team. Despite their lack of experience, both teams put forth a great effort. This was Sheila Davis' first year at coaching volleyball. The teams may have lacked the points on the scoreboard, but they showed great spirit and always put up a good fight. This year they have obtained the skill and experience to have a great season next year.

The Boys Varsity Basketball Team had an off season. Coach Warner felt it was due mostly to the players' grades. Many of the returning players were not able to participate because their low grades kept them out for the season. That left the team with many new and inexperienced players. They are expecting good things for next year.

J.V./Freshman Basketball

A day of basketball began at 3:00 p.m. for this year's 1986-87 J.V. Boys Basketball. Under the guidance of Coach Giddens, the J.V. Boys Basketball displayed an outstanding quality in their games. This year, the team played exceptionally well against their competitors. They won many excellent games against other schools. However, the team members will gain valuable experiences in the varsity year.

J.V. Basketball Players: Roderick Cofer, Thuan Huynh, Randy Roach, Jason Spragan, Derek Dewitt, Malik Tenyette, Byron Hall, Raul Coleman, Eddie White

This year's Freshman Boys Basketball also had an excellent season. Under the leadership of Coach Freeman, the team work developed better skill for their games. Both teams will experience better skills as they reach high in their goal as a basketball player.

Lady Cougars

When the season arrived, the 1986-87 Girls Varsity Basketball Team took control of the game. They have been practicing for many long hours each day. Because every shot deserved perfection, the teammates had to struggle in their long practices. Not only would practices help them win but so would their determination. Victory was what our Girls Varsity Basketball Team wanted; they got it. They won many games this year. What made the Varsity Girls Basketball Team possible was the direction of Coach Davis.

Where's The Ball

The 1986-87 J.V. Girls Basketball had a successful season this year. Under the direction of Coach Suzi Hagar, the girls worked hard each day to build skill and stamina for their games. The team gained valuable experience through their practices every day. Also, they will develop better skills for their varsity year.

The Big Boys

Wrestling was one of the active sports which took a great skill of courage. Under the excellent leadership of Coach Jerry Barlow, the wrestlers worked hard to develop their intellect, quick thinking, and stamina for the tournaments. As the season began, the team members trained hard each day to develop better skill for the tournament. This year, the wrestlers competed in many tournaments which were Bishop Lynch Tournament, North Texas Open, D.I.S.D. Tournament, Newman Smith Quad, Lake Highlands and Skyline Tournament. However, they won many tournaments. Our first place winners in the Regional Tournament were Robert Mitchell, Roland Vera, Dane Thomson, and Chris Twitty. These wrestlers will also represent our B.A. school in the State Tournament which was held in El Paso.

As of February 4th, the Boys Soccer Team was just starting to dig into the season with a record of 4-2. Since Skyline defeated them in pre-season and rumor had it that Samuel had a pretty good team this year, the Hartwicks knew that it would be a battle for the playoffs. Coach Flagg said that the boys knew the important lesson of working as a team. That lesson was evident because of the divided scoring and the fact that no one player dominated. Coach Flagg felt that it was important for the boys to enjoy the sport and have fun playing, but to also have the brains to know what to do with the ball in order to make winning happen.

Getting A Kick Out Of It

The Girl's Soccer Team had another successful season this year. They defeated Martin, Sunset, and North Mesquite. They tied Plano and lost to Duncanville and Highland Park. Michele Martinez and Mary Howard won the All-Tournament award in the North Dallas Tournament. The team captains this year were Mary Howard, Rene Bryant, Michele Martinez, and Christy Cowden. There were seven returning players from last year's winning team. Coach Moreno felt that at the beginning of the season the team lacked the strong leadership that the team had last year. Along with the seven returning players, they have seven freshmen who were new to the team. Coach Moreno hoped that by the playoffs, the girls would be playing more as a team than as individuals. It's looking like another winning season for the Lady Hartwicks.

This year's Track Team worked diligently for their competitions. Under the direction of Coach Harry Johnson, the 1986-87 Track Team members developed different aspects of track and field competition. They began to practice in early February. Their practices consisted of running many laps around the football field. The team developed muscle and strength through their practice. Also, they gained experience with the help of each member of the team.

The 1986-87 Girls Track Team displayed an outstanding stride during practices and in competitions. As the season began, the girls exercised to build their stamina. Under the direction of Coach Suzy Hagar, the team worked hard to build confidence and endurance through practices. The team began practice by running laps each day. Not only did the training fortify their power to run faster, but also their determination to do it. They gained much experience through hard practices.

Take the Plunge!

In the past few years, the swim team has walked away with the District title, and Coach Rosenbauer was very confident about this year's team. At the time this article was written, they had won all their meets. Coach Rosenbauer was preparing her team for the competition with Berkner and W. T. White. The District meet was February 21. On March 7 and 12, the team competed in the Regional and State meets. No team captains were chosen for this year. Coach Rosenbauer said that this year's team was young, but very talented. The swim team manager was Karen Hamrock. She managed the team last year, also. The team lived up to their usual winning image.

Racket Up

This year in 1986-87 Varsity Tennis Team upheld their reputations. Under the excellent leadership of Coach Bruce Clark, the team encountered the skill that provided good background for their tournaments. This year the tennis team was composed of many new players, but most of them seem to be playing well. Their practices consisted of a forehand and backhand technique that will develop them into better players. They will go into district play which began in February through April. However, the biggest event was the District Tournament in April. Hopefully, the members will win the tournament as they have been doing in the past. Last year the girls finished in first place and the boys finished second place.

A Hole In One

The 1986-87 Golf Team fulfilled their obligations well this year. Under the leadership of Coach Hill, the team members performed with great skill and determination as excellent golfers. This year the team consisted of five members. They met on Wednesday and Friday for practice which was held at Tennison, Cedar Crest, and Keaton Golf Courses. The golfers gained experience through these practices. They learned a thinking process and concentration for the tournament. Also, the training developed better skill for these golfers. With their skills and motivation, the golf members were sure to beat their opponents. In their first match of the season, they planned to beat South Oak Cliff.

Working hard till the rays of dusk, the Bryan Adams baseball team perfected its every move. The team was led devotedly by the Tri-Captains: Landon Perry, Shayne Currin, and Greg Hayes. Day after day of strenuous practice developed each player's potential and strengthened each Cougar's goal to strive for the top. With Coach Regelsky working with the team, they learned drill after drill to become prepared for the season. Because of their dedication, these Cougars continued their winning tradition and supported the spirit of Bryan Adams.

Student Voice

The Student Council is a group of students represented by fifteen members from each class, plus ten independents. This group tried throughout the year to hold more assemblies, breaking through D.I.S.D. and state rulings. They also sold carnations before school to boost spirit for pep assemblies on game days, and sponsored the Homecoming Dance. This year's President was Cheryl Millican, Vice-President Julie Riddle, Secretary Lori Parks, and Treasurer Phillip Young. The sponsor was Mr. Densmore.

Something to Shout About!

Let's hear it for J.V.! Once again our J.V. cheerleaders have shown us that we have something to shout about. This year the team consisted of sixteen cheerleaders, of that sixteen, ten were juniors. Over the summer, the squad attended the Universal Cheerleading Association camp, where they showed the true Bryan Adams spirit. While at camp, they won two gold superior ribbons, eight blue ribbons, two excellent ribbons, and four spirit sticks. Among those awards, however, the top award they received was the master spirit award. They were chosen for this award by all the other squads at the camp because they showed the most spirit. Finally, their last accomplishment was making it to the finals of sideline chants.

The 1986-87 J.V. cheerleaders are: Stephany Bishop, Myrnee Blanton, Rosa Cortez, Shelli Davis, Tracy Dodd, Delilah Fontanillas, Ree Goldberg, Kim Hardy, Terri Harris, Traci Harris, Chris Hendershott, Sherry Martin, Jill Phillips, Derek Snyder, Ami Stovall, and Susan Young.

The Sounds of Spirit

As usual, the backbone of our spirit this year was none other than the B.A. Spirits. Providing the athletes with some extra added encouragement, the Spirit squad attended all the pep assemblies and games. They cheered, chanted, and inspired every one of the spectators at the games. In their own special ways, they showed the teams that the student body would be proud of them no matter what the outcome of the game.

The officers for 1986-87 were: President, Dawn Blackmon; Vice President, Krystal Barber; Secretary/Treasurer, Shelli Welch; and the captains were: Mary Seaman, Cynthia Boyer, Kathy Chandler, and Amie Sullivan. Special thanks goes to Ms. Janice Pinyan and Mrs. Jessie Barbee for their sponsorship of our Spirit girls.

Vibrantly Varsity

Composed of seniors, the Varsity Cheerleaders proved to be one of the best squads Bryan Adams has seen. Through early morning and evening practices these cheerleaders exhibited their strong dedication for hard work. This hard work could easily be seen through their outstanding performances at football games, pep assemblies and support for our winning teams. The sponsor for the Varsity Cheerleaders this year was Mrs. Fortner.

Ring in the New

The 1986-1987 Belles faced many new experiences and many old traditions this year. They attended Half-Time U.S.A. Drill Team Camp at South West Texas University in San Marcos. The work was hard and vigorous with each minute planned; yet, the experience proved worth it. At the end of the camp, the officers and several of the girls were invited to Hong Kong to dance as Champion Dancers.

The Belles also performed at Bryan Adams Class of 66's reunion at the Lincoln Hotel where they performed the traditional Belle kick. The girls also marched in the State Fair Opening Day Parade. Performing a variety of routines, Belles attended both football and basketball games. They also promoted much spirit this year for various sports. For example, they reinstituted the old tradition of giving spirit gifts weekly to the football players as well as decorating the girls volleyball cage for the team on a game day. The officers for the 1986-1987 Belles were Captain Susan Razzuk, Lieutenants Holli Loveless, April Maurer, Jenny Morgan, and Julie Morris. The Belles were devotedly led by former Belle Connie Tyler.

Freshman Talent

Throughout the year, talented young musicians of the Freshman band met sixth and seventh period to focus on learning the basics. This was the first step in their music career at Bryan Adams and in becoming future B.A.ndsmen. Band director Mr. Roy Renzenbrink commented that he was "excited about all of the new talent coming from the overall group to the band next year."

Promoting interest in the band program, the Freshman band toured local elementary schools capturing the attention of younger children. They also performed Christmas concerts at the school and area shopping malls. In the spring, the band concentrated on D.I.S.D. and U.I.L. contests playing challenging pieces that also gave them a taste of life in the concert or symphonic band. This hard-working group finished the year by performing their first marching routine in the Green and White game. These dedicated players show great potential in making the future B.A.nd even better.

Musical Inclined

The crowd eagerly awaited the arrival of the green and white peppermint-stick colored members. Running and screaming, the Bryan Adams Marching Cougar Band quickly met the demands of the people. With their Dixieland music, they energized themselves and aroused the audiences with their dazzling routines and awesome sound. Although they did not go on their annual out-of-town trip, the B.a.nd did participate in events such as The State Fair Parade, United Way's birthday, Blanton Gardens rest home, the opening of Pizza Hut's 5000th restaurant and U.I.L. Contest. The '87 Marching band was under the supervision of director Don Daniel and assistant Roy Renzenbrink, who both kept the band's spirit alive and strong.

Jazz It Up

The stageband is a select group of musicians with a common love for jazz music and a special talent for playing it. This year a variety of new music was ordered in order to perform at various concerts and contests. The concert given in the spring featured guest soloist Rob Blakeslee, a jazz trumpetist from the West Coast. John L. Billimek comments that stageband "gives me a chance to relax." The atmosphere is laid back and Mr. Daniel, the conductor, opens up more around these students. He works with them on a one to one basis, knowing them individually. Richard Mendoza feels that they play music everyone likes and enjoys which expresses their feelings musically. The devotion and willingness to work on the part of the players gives the stageband excellence and prestige.

Orchestral Maneuvers

This year's orchestra was in the rebuilding stages with their new director Mr. Jeff Hill. Mr. Hill is new to Bryan Adams, but not to D.I.S.D. Trying to upgrade the standards of the orchestra, these musicians are working hard on their technical abilities. All of the work and dedication put into the music was essentially preparing them for the trip to North Texas State University at the end of February. In April,

Bryan Adams was host to the D.I.S.D. contests in which the orchestra participated. These talented musicians also performed various concerts throughout the year such as the Holiday Pops music performed around Christmas. Mr. Hill comments, "The group has a very positive attitude and a great potential for growth in the future."

Right on Key

This year the choir sang notes of joy to many. The chamber and concert choir both filled the air with illustrious sounds as they served the community. The choir sang at various places throughout the year such as: Medical City, Plaza of the Americas, Town East Mall, the AARP meeting, church services, the Truett faculty Christmas banquet, and the Masonic lodge. They also delighted us at football games, pep assemblies, the Christmas assembly, Baccalaureate, and graduation. Led devotedly by Mr. Erwin, their year was a success.

Quiet on the set . . . NOISES OFF!!!

This year's UIL One-Act Play was inspired by the production of NOISES OFF, that had been seen by the drama department earlier this year. NOISES OFF reflected the life behind the lights and glory on stage and how actors' personal experiences can affect stage performances. After the cast was chosen, they spent many long hours to perfect lines, working with props and stage blocking. On March 21, NOISES OFF was performed for competition. This year's cast composed of Jimmy Fowler, John Flores, Haven Abedin, Don Collier, Teri Rodehaver, Tonya McKinght, Joel Bonzo, and Beth Handlin.

Literally

The Literary Society was an organization that met once a month, sometimes with a guest speaker. Students participating shared a common enjoyment of literature. The club was visited by Mr. McKee with his slides of England, was lectured by Mrs. Walls, and took a trip to the downtown library to view the Shakespeare portfolio. This year's President was Lori Harkens, Vice President Jeff Blackwell, Secretary Magda Hashem, Treasurer Thuy-Hang Nguyen, and Social Chairperson Marsha Blain. The sponsor again was Mrs. Leeman.

Inspiring Artists

The words used to describe the Art Club were increased creativity. The Art Club had 100 members and was very active. The most exciting of the year's activities included a trip to the Science Place to see "China" and its world of art, which was followed by a Chinese dinner. Throughout the year, the club had guest speakers at the general meetings, a trip to the art museum, a New Year's party, and a fund raiser. One of their community activities was preparing a Christmas basket for a needy family. The organization ended the year with a banquet.

Ms. N. Miller and Mr. D. Alcoze sponsored the Art Club. Officers were: President: Athena Ruiz; Secretary: Felicia Dixon; Treasurer: David Duperry; Social chairperson: Edelia Ruiz; and those that were always behind the scenes doing anything they could were: Charity Caraway, Nicolle Krosh, and Randee Nausbaum.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE . . . THE COMPANY

The drama club — The Company — has started many things this year. They have started an annual car wash, a Halloween party, seen professional plays such as "Noises Off" and "All the King's Men." This year, they put on "Dark of the Moon" as their major production. The company worked with the U.I.L. play and for the first time with the musical. This year's officers were: Courtney Lange, President; Kyle Hennen, Vice President; Myka Banks, Second Vice President; Phillip Young, Treasurer; Haven Abedin, Secretary; Mr. John Mccollum, sponsor.

Thespians was a national society of actors who have spent several hours working both on and off the stage. It is an association that displays outstanding student actor's abilities on a high school level.

The Stars Behind the Stage

Stagecrew was the general labor force when it came to pep assemblies and culture assemblies. They also remodeled the portable into a theatre. They worked on the Playhouse production, the musical, Patchwork Players and UIL. This year's manager was Myka Banks.

DARK OF THE MOON

This year the drama department put on the supernatural play, DARK OF THE MOON. The play opened with John the witch-boy who asked Conjure Woman to make him human because he was in love with a girl named Barbara Allen. The young couple fell in love even with forces against them such as the townspeople, John's ex-playmates and Barbara's deformed baby. John's playmates Dark and Fair witch made a bet on Barbara's life that John would not want to stay human regardless of what happened to him. This was true. The witches won the bet and Barbara died with John left with his playmates. He became a witch again and forgot about Barbara.

Kids' Stuff

How to Eat Like a Child was the name of this year's program for the Patchwork Players. The play was a musical that taught 23 lessons from a child's point of view. It showed things like being sent to your room, what to do when you went to bed, and how to beg for a dog just to name a few.

Other than the play the Patchwork Players participated in the International Reading Association workshop where they were guides to the children who attended. They also acted as volunteers for the different workshops and helped the kids any way they could.

The players were: Phillip Young, Maurine Hall, Rodney Collier, Rodney Culpepper, Ami Boatright, Tony Ludlow, Jodi Russell, Joyce Fletcher, Bryndis Dopson, Casey Gabel, Emil Whittle, and Lissett Rodriguez.

NFL — "SPEAK UNLESS SPOKEN TO..."

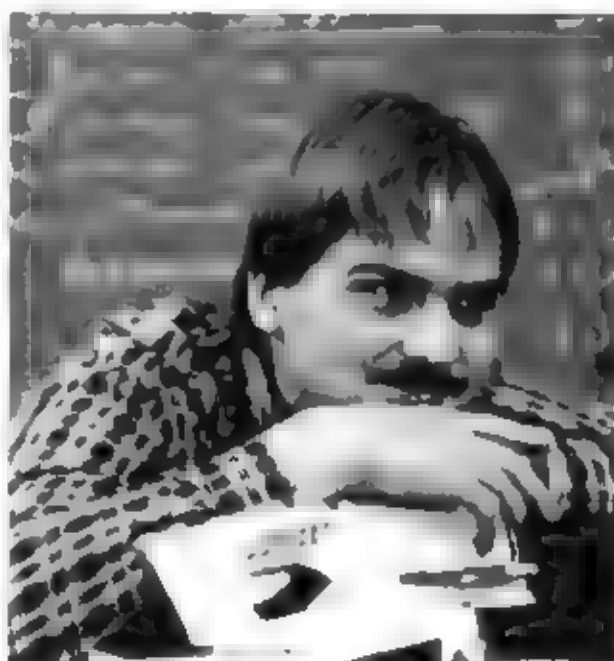

This year's NFL has worked hard on materials such as original oratory, CX/LD debate, duet, prose, and poetry. Although this year's speech team was smaller in size than the previous years, their spirit and dedication came in great quantities. The NFL went to a few out-of-town tournaments like Midland and Houston. This year's President, Amy Winton, made it to state competition for Original Oratory. Officers for NFL were: President; Amy Winton, Vice President; Trisha Trautman, Secretary; Christy Cowden, Business Manager; Chris McCollum, and Point Keeper Frances Gutierrez. Former members Pete and Allison Wyman and dedicated speech coach Janet Gerard played a big part on the success of the NFL speech team.

N.F.L.: TOURNEYS to TURKEYS...

Master Ballots, drops and cooked turkeys may not have meant anything to the average student, but to speech kids, they meant life or death. Under the direction of Janet Gerard, the N.F.L. speech team hosted its 26th annual speech tournament. Dealing with 45 schools across Texas and a few from Oklahoma, the speech kids from B.A. learned about tournament procedures, organization and patience. Students, as well as faculty, from the visiting schools commented highly on the tournament's professionalism and business-like atmosphere. This year's Tournament Director was the lovely Amy Winton.

The Men of the Future

The keys to the Key Club were service to our school and community, service to society, service to oneself, fund raising activities, and fun activities. Joining the Inter-Club Council, the Key Club's community activities were increased quite a bit.

Their motto was to build for a better world in which to live. They are a group of young gentlemen who want to develop the leadership of our future, so that this world can become a more improved world of tomorrow. These young men made people stand and take notice that our generation was one that cared about what went on in the world.

Special thanks should be given to Mr. Richard McKee for his sponsorship of these gentlemen. The officers this year were: President: Phillip Young; Vice President: Minh Doung; Secretary: Curtis Russell; and Treasurer: James Marrs.

KEYWANETTES . . . Keyed up for Service

Keywanettes helped provide service to the school, church and community. Throughout the year, they organized the calendar in the lunchroom, cleaned the garden and brought goodies for teachers on staff development day. For their community, they entertained at Medical City for the kids and elders, and helped give food baskets to the needy during the holidays. This year's officers were President; Susan Razzuk, Vice President; Jennifer Cran, Secretary Tricia Cawthorne and Vanessa Woodland. The Texas-Oklahoma District Governor was Kim Flores who was in charge of all the clubs in Texas and Oklahoma. Gail Hervey was the dedicated sponsor of the year.

The Good Hands People

Uniting with three other clubs, the Red Cross became a part of the Inter-Club Council. On December 3, 4, and 5th, they sponsored their annual fund drive with $300 of what they raised going for a present for the V.A. Hospital. Among some of their activities, they helped with the party at Elmer Scott Place, the Red Cross' emergency housing project and gave them a $200 donation. They also went to Medical City to help with face painting at a reunion of terminally ill children. In several sessions called Home Alone, they taught "latch key" kids how to take care of themselves in different situations. Along with the Inter-Club Council, they started putting together a program called BIONIC (Believe It Or Not I Care), which should hopefully benefit both the community and B.A.

Catch the Spirit

Young Life was a Christian fellowship organization that met every Monday night at White Rock Methodist Church. Students joined together to sing songs, put on skits, play games, and learn about the Bible in a fun and inspirational atmosphere. Many Young Lifers spent their Christmas break on the annual Young Life ski trip in Colorado. They worked hard to raise the money through garage sales and other fundraisers. The Campaigners was an organization that gave students an opportunity for further Bible study in smaller groups at individual homes. This year's sponsors were Steve and Marcie Elkins.

The Bolder the Better

Our Reserved Officer's Training Corps showed their true colors this year. At the opening of the State Fair, the Bryan Adams honor guard was there standing by the Governor to serve as his escort. They also participated in the State Fair parade and served as ushers for the Texas-O.U. football game. Among other duties, they serve as ushers at football games and present the colors at all school functions.

The ROTC participated in many competitions throughout the year. This past year they participated the Field Day competition where all Dallas schools participated in group and individual events. The first, second, and third year cadets competed in drill, rifle, and color guard inspections. The backbone of this group was Col. E. Martin and Sgt. Maj. Carmago.

JA = Money

The Junior Achievement program was designed to teach students about the principals of economics. Its purpose was to let students create a simulated corporation, develop a product, manufacture it, and try to make a profit. Setting up a business-like atmosphere, students experience situations resembling the everyday work world. The class met third and fourth period, and helped the Red Cross. ... In With the Better

Wow! The El Conquistador made some pretty drastic changes. Our book got bigger and the changes made it better. Introducing a new idea of a theme was a new practice for the book in general. The new staff took over with creative ideas in order to see that their book would be something valued and treasured not only by themselves, but also by the student body. They wanted this book to stand out from all the rest and they did their best to make the necessary changes to do so. With a year's worth of experience under her belt, Ms. Jean E. Carroll saw that the yearbook would be one that was above the rest. Without her hard work, constant supervision, and dedication the new staff would have been lost. Despite the chaotic times, especially around deadline, the staff maintained their composure and produced a book they felt was "Better Than Ever!"

Take My Pitcha' Man!

Once upon a time there were six dudes called the "El C Photographers." Their names were Andrewneetra, Treynequel, Scrotie, Joshums, Gusonia, and Cloppage (Andy, Trey, Scott, Josh, Gus, Craig). They were the hardest workers on the yearbook staff. They always met their deadlines with punctuality. As you can see from the pictures in this yearbook, we gave our one-hundred ten percent. We, the photographers, would like to express our most sincere thanks to Dr. John Kelly for the use of his magnificent aircraft.

No Place Like Home

The FHA/HERO Chapters are to help students assume their role in society by learning about home economics, by involvement in community service, and by helping themselves and others. This year the organization attended a conference held by the March of Dimes stressing birth defects and drug abuse, then gave a presentation in December to Bryan Adams about what they had learned. Other activities during the year included a representative from the Kim Dawson Agency who spoke on modeling as a career and self improvement, and attending the state meeting with future homemakers from all over the state. UNITED WE STAND

The Inter-Council consisted of the four main service organizations: the National Honor Society, Red Cross, Keywanettes and Key Club. The Council established a Peer Counseling program which aided students and encouraged them to get involved in school activities. The Principal's Advisory Council is a unit of the council created to use the student's opinions and to help the administration. The Council tackled major service projects through a joint effort. This year's spokeswoman was Julie Strand; Neel Baumgardner, Phillip Young and Susan Raz-zuk were assistant Directors.

Only Fools Laugh at the Latin Language

Loyal devotees of the Latin tongue first celebrated the birthday of Virgil, then a Halloween party, and then a progressive Christmas dinner. The Latins sponsored the Valentine Hearts-O-Gram's sale to pay for the spring convention. Finally, they held a slave auction and pseudo-authentic banquet.

THAT'S OUR TYPE OF EMPLOYMENT

Faithfully led by the 1986-87 sponsor Mrs. Dillehay, the Office Education Association was a national organization designed to serve students enrolled in vocational office education programs. This goal was met by developing leadership ability, promoting interest in the American business system and participating in educational, professional, and civic activities. The experience was invaluable because students learned the importance of responsibility and competency. They met in the spirit of friendship and goodwill as they prepared for lives of service in office occupations.

WE'VE GOT A REAL JOB

The purpose of V.I.C.A., or the Vocational Industrial Club of America, was to plan and execute social and civic projects. These students worked hard at being the best in their particular field. As members of the organization, the students displayed their leadership and cooperation skills. The V.I.C.A. encouraged students to work hard and develop competence in their area. It also gave students the chance to get that extra advantage in their field while earning some spending money. The 1986-87 sponsor was Mr. Wells.

Distributive Education Clubs of America is one of the many organizations in the race for a better career. The contestants had on-the-job training and built their leadership skills in ten areas. The coaches for 1986-87 D.E.C.A. were Ms. Baylor, Mr. Clay and Ms. Foerch.

The Competing Minds

For the first time at B.A., some students took part in the Academic Decathlon, where they were tested in economics, math, science, social studies, language and literature, and fine arts. They gave both a prepared and an impromptu speech, and they wrote an essay.

At the competition on January 30-31, Kerri Atwood took first place in fine arts and interview and second in literature and language. Todd Smith placed first in math and third in science and overall.

The team was Todd Smith, Jeff Blackwell, Kerri Atwood, Laura Ringler, Kim Stretcher, and Cyndi Johnson. Alternates were Neel Baumgardner and Christine Gutierrez. They were sponsored by Dr. J. Pinyan.

DISCIPLINES

A New Leader

With a friendly smile, the new principal joined the faculty with the incoming year. Dr. Joel Pittman is well qualified; he holds a degree in science, a Masters in Education, and a Doctorate in Education, not to mention experience from other DISD schools.

As the new principal, he set policies which looked toward the number one interest ... the students adapted to this new leadership and assisted him in carrying it out.

Dr. Pittman enjoyed the friendly and cooperative students and was impressed with the dedication of the surrounding community and parental support.

Top: "Another phone call?" Dr. Pittman thinks as he is leaving to monitor the halls.

Assisting the Command

With the good fortune of Mr. Salinas, Mr. Forgey and Dr. Blackwood, the dean of instruction, organization was of vital importance in controlling a large school. They did their part well from one day to the next. They made sure all the requirements were met from the state, the city, and DISD. They participated in big events, like football games, and approved club activities and announcements. Together, they took disciplinary actions with students who failed to obey the rules.

Mr. Forgey still upheld his reputation as "totally spirited" in pep assemblies. Appreciation goes to these members of the faculty for their dedication and hard work.

Head Office

The Principal's Office was a very busy and important place at Bryan Adams. The ladies who assisted the principal in the office were: Mrs. E. Holt and Mrs. V. Harper. These were the women who were responsible for setting appointments for the principals, greeting visitors, ordering supplies, delivering mail, and faculty attendance. Both of the ladies enjoyed their jobs and the students appreciated their courtesy.

Who's Next?

The Counselor's Office was always busy with many tasks, such as schedule changes and enrolling new students. The counselor's themselves were always on the move. The friendly ladies helped students make many important decisions. Some of the choices made with the help of the counselors were: classes, jobs, colleges, and personal problems. Also, the Seniors were helped in applying at the college of their choice. The counselors this year were: Mrs. Warbington, Mrs. Townsend, Mrs. Crowder, and Mrs. Enlow.

PINK SHEETS!

What! A new program? The attendance ladies were presented with a new system of taking attendance. Student helpers picked up "pink sheets," from each classroom and returned them to the attendance office. Then, the attendance ladies recorded the absentees in the computer. Besides adjusting to the new program, the ladies had other meaningful tasks such as: taking care of excuses for being absent, tardies, and permits for medical treatment.

The attendance clerks were: Anita Parker, Faye Van, Mary Brinlee, and Sylvia Karr, and the school registrar was Donna Hanes.

Busy as Bees!

The ladies in the data office stayed as "busy as bees." Mrs. Solomon and Mrs. Schneider performed many duties for the faculty and students. These ladies kept up-to-date personal information on each student. They also performed many other tasks such as: grade corrections, busing information, transcripts, course master reports, grade reports, and schedule changes. It was nice to have had them handling this responsibility. Could you imagine the school without them? It would have been a disaster.

In Trouble?

Officer Gartrell, Mr. Fleetwood, and Mr. Watson controlled the Youth Action Center. They helped students that got into trouble. Some of the situations which involved the students as Mr. Fleetwood said, "were truant, drugs, and major disruptions." Also, Mr. Butler came in on Monday's to let students on probation "check in." Officer Gartrell stopped speeding students around campus. Even though their jobs were rough, they were still nice guys.

The "Big House"

The State Legislature House Bill 72 gave the orders to Ms. Reed and Coach Freeman on how to run the all-day detention. Instead of suspending students, they have a parent conference; afterwards, they were given in-house. During the time, students do assignments only; they were not to sleep or talk. If all assignments were completed, then extra worksheets were given. In-house is a good way to discipline students in a respectable manner.

Across: Joe Servin is pretending to be sick!

Are You Really Sick?

Headache, stomachache, toothache, and earache were only some of the symptoms the nurse heard day after day. The nurses would either treat the student and send him or her to class or home. Head nurse, Sue Jennings, and her assistant, Mattie Swanson, tried to give each student the best possible care. Besides treating the patients, they also had to keep all health records up-to-date. Every new student that arrived soon visited the clinic for a check-up. The nurses' jobs were very much appreciated by all of the students who needed their help.

Books, Etc.!

The large, silent room filled with books was known to us as the library. Students entered and exited the doors of the library all year long. It was a "necessity," especially for research papers. Mary Ann Dodd, Linda Garrett, Mary Lou Trull, Margaret Chandler, were the ladies in the library who helped each student find the materials they needed in their research. Many students found this "silent" atmosphere as a time for study or just leisure reading.

Historically Speaking

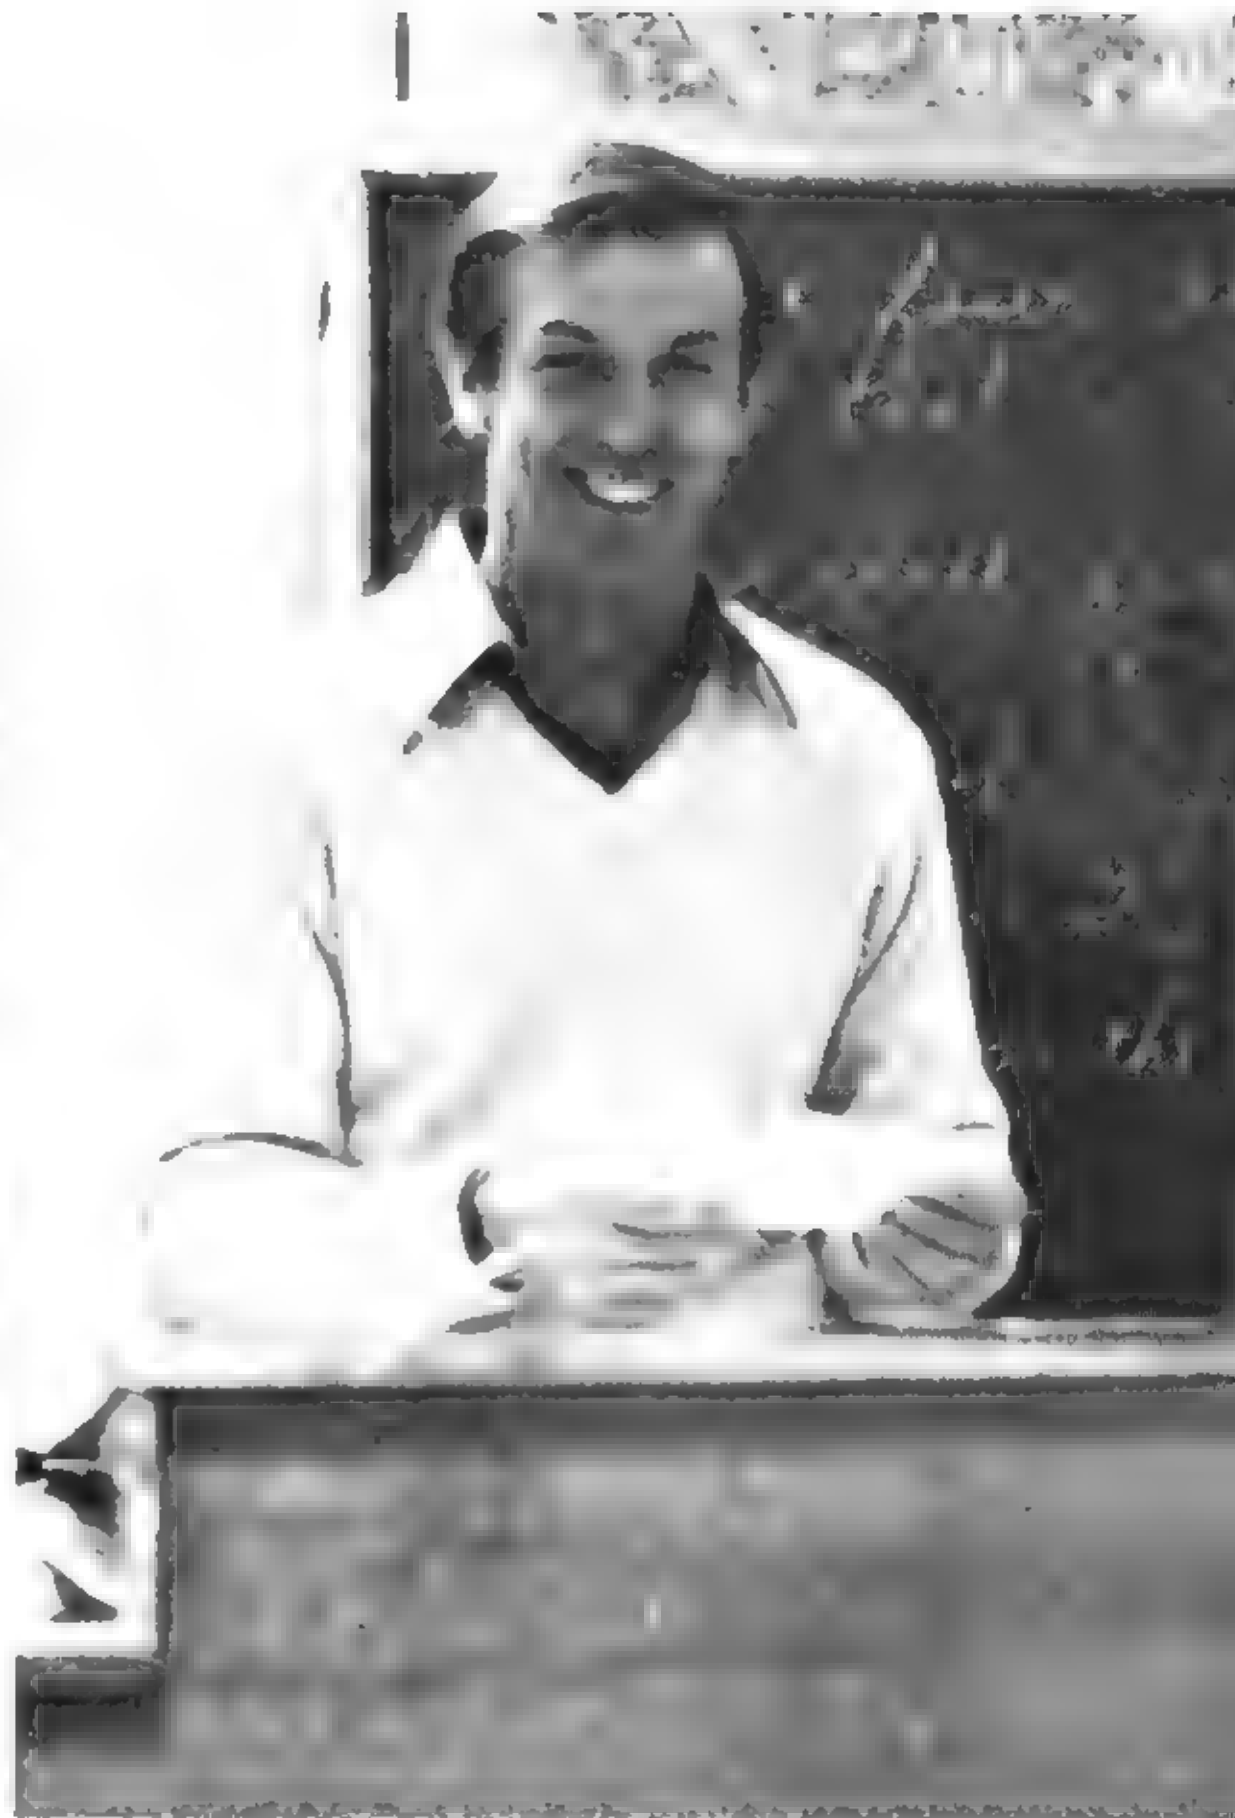

Not only did the Social Studies department strive to teach Economics, U.S. History, World History, U.S. Government, and A.P. World History, but also gave encouragement for many opportunities that students could obtain. Some of these opportunities included the annual trip to Washington for the Close-up program, the mock trial competition, the state-wide project sponsored by T.W.U., and, the newly installed, Citizens Bee. Thanks for a great job, Mr. Paleschic.

Another Job Well Done

Once again, this year proved to be an outstanding year for the English Department. With the help of the English teachers, the research papers, poems, and verbs became easier to understand.

Again, Mr. Matlack served as chairperson for our prestigious English teachers. The main objectives were to increase literary appreciation, vocabulary, spelling, and in some cases, write an occasional letter of recommendation.

The teachers in the department were Ms. Cunningham, Ms. Sanchez, Mr. Matlack, Ms. Villela, Ms. Ekejija, Ms. Hall, Mr. Vernol, Ms. Lopez, Ms. Mosely, Ms. Leeman, Ms. Francis, Ms. Carroll, Ms. Hightower, Ms. Bly, Ms. Hunt, Ms. Bronough, Ms. Fortner, and Mr. McKee. Thanks again, for a wonderful job well done.

Pythagorean Progress

The Math Department offered a variety of math classes. The classes ran anywhere from Basic Math to Calculus. There was also a Computer Math class offered to those students who wanted to develop their skills with the computer. The classes helped to prepare students for the future. Students not only learned math, but also learned how to use logic when solving problems. When it all boiled down, many students found that the answer to many problems resulted from the "good old" Pythagorean progress.

The Science and Health department provided a solid background for dealing with the events of everyday life. Science involved the study of amoebas to the dissection of animals such as frogs. Thus, an apple a day keeps the failures away.

The Foreign Language Department consists of Latin, French, Spanish, and German. All of the languages are taught up to four years. Spanish, however may be taught up to five years because it was offered to students in middle schools. Students learned to read, write, and speak the languages. The languages may have been difficult to learn and required time and concentration, but most pulled through. As a result, the hard work and determination enriched the languages of many students.

Education and Compensation

Every year more and more students have participated in the work program. These students are required to work, as well as keep up an average of 70 or above in school. During the school day, these students attend certain classes that correspond with their jobs. These classes provided students with the needed skills to fulfill their obligation at work.

Mr. Clay was in charge of the department this year. C.V.A.E., V.O.E., I.C.T., A.C.T., H.O.C.T., D.E., and H.E.C.E. were the classes under his supervision. Ms. Dillehay, Ms. Foerch, Ms. Tyler, Mr. Wells, and Mr. Flagg were responsible for the program.

Many students chose to participate in the elective photography class to perfect their ability to produce better black and white pictures. Not only were their goals to increase their knowledge of photography, but to develop negatives, print contact sheets, and work with live models. As in years past, Mr. Densmore offered a broader class of photography emphasizing techniques used in studio photography. Students did not need any photography experience to enroll.

Name That Type

The Business Department is preparing students for the age of the computer. The department offers such classes as Beginning Typing, Advanced Typing and Word Processing, Shorthand, Accounting, Office-procedures, Personal Business Management, and Business and Consumer Law. The students used three IBM word processing display writers and one printer as well as many Panasonic typewriters. All in all, the Business Department had the same equipment as the modern-day office. This in turn, enables students to go into the business world well qualified and prepared to work.

Not Just Cookin' and Sewin'

Consumer and homemaking education were comprised of instructional programs that prepare individuals for the occupation of homemaking. This past year, the homemaking teachers: Mrs. Withrow, Mrs. Taylor, and Mrs. Evans tried to prepare each student to be prepared for life on his own. There were many classes pertaining to the field of homemaking offered at Bryan Adams. The semester classes were: consumer education, housing and home furnishings, child development, home management, foods and nutrition, clothing and textiles, family living and parenting. The comprehensive homemaking class was the importance of knowledge relating to understanding skills relevant to individual and family care. This class was different from an academic class which gave most students a desire to learn.

TAKE TWO . . .

The Drama department was a healthy part of our school. The classes were taught by Mr. McCollum for the 86-87 year. The students were not only taught how to act but were also taught how to apply make-up, setting up props, making props, and designing of sets. The class gave the students a chance to experience "life in the spotlight" and also gave them a possible choice for a further career in the field of acting.

Expressive Art

The Art Department created new expressions with dimensions and shapes. Mr. Alcoze and Ms. Miller, the directors, helped the "future artists" develop their talent by solving various art problems. These creative problems involved seeing the shadows and outlines on a still-life to three-dimensional pictures. The four different levels of art gave the students the opportunity to express themselves and use their imaginations. Ceramics was also included as a course which let students work with clay and build their own pottery pieces. Hence, creativity and patience was part of the thinking process.

We Love Music

Sweet sounds constantly flowed from the various rooms of the Music Department rooms. Mr. Erwin was the choir director, and Mr. Hill led the orchestra, while Mr. Daniels and Mr. Renzenbrink, together, headed the marching and freshman band as well as the famous jazz ensemble. In each class of music, the directors gave the students new songs from well-known artists to practice and worked on programs for competition and school. Also, the musicians learned to sightread and develop their talent through the help of these teachers. Henceforth, the well-conducted music was pleasing to all who listened.

Only Human

Two of the most fascinating classes offered here were taught by Dr. J. Pinyan. These courses were given to students who wanted to understand the behavior and environment of people in our society today. It gave the students an opportunity to learn about their society in which they can become a better part. Sociology classes involve the actions of society and behavior patterns. Psychology was a study of the human mind and behavior.

Extra Help

The Special Education Department proved beneficial to some students. Special Education was taught by Miss Storrs, Mrs. Griggs, Miss Simons, and Mrs. Thornton. The department was made up of classes such as Basic and Resource Math, Resource English, and Social Studies. Students took these classes along with their regular curriculum subjects. The classes developed basic skills as well as offered additional help and guidance. As a result, the "extra help" aided many prominent students.

Industrial Technology offered such classes as General and Advanced Electronics, General and Advanced Wood, General Plastics, General Metal and General Drafting. Don't Mess With Cougar Country

Who kept our "country" clean? The hardworking custodial staff helped keep the campus neat and tidy, from the inside . . . out. They swept the halls and rooms, disinfected the restrooms, took out the trash, and fixed the broken water pipes. Also, the courtyards were well kept because of the good grass-mowing job and trimming of the trees and shrubs. Two members of the staff monitored the parking lot to collect change and check that all the cars were registered. The clean-up crew did a fantastic job and were industrious workers.

What's Cookin'?

While the hungry students ate their lunches and socialized, the lunchroom ladies were behind the serving lines which offered a variety of healthy food. Some of the ladies worked the plate lunch lines, while the others did various duties in other sections of the lunchroom such as tending to the snack and drink aisle. On special occasions, the ladies dressed up to show their "sparkle." They were always helpful and courteous in their service.

Athena,

I want to thank you for being the special love of my life. My prayers were answered the day that I first met you at the carnival last year. I hope this school year will be a special and memorable one for you. Your goals that you have set for yourself are very important to me. I am so proud of your academic achievements.

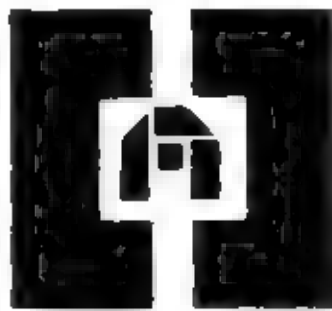

We have been through a lot together in the 18 months since I have known you. I am so grateful that my mom and dad got to know you before they passed away this year. I will always be there for you just like you have been there for me. My goal in life is solely devoted to your happiness. I am so happy and proud that I can introduce you now as my fiancéé. I love you very much. Remember; "together forever."

Love always,
Mike

Victoria,

This year has been OUR year. The best thing about it is that it's finally here! We've been through a lot in the past four years. Thank you so much for lending an ear when I needed it. Thanks to you, I can reflect on these last years as a rewarding experience. You've been a wonderful friend. As we lead our lives, I'll always remember the funny things that happened and never the sad because through you I've learned how to accept the happy times and put away the bad.

Dear Mijita,

Congratulations! Victoria, I know you have worked very hard in school. Keep up the good work throughout college. I am sure you will accomplish all the goals you have set for yourself.

Thank you for being the sweet and loving daughter that you are. Grandma, Grandpa, and I are very proud of you.

I Love You,

From September of 1983 to June of 1987, the Class of '87 lived in a secluded world. Suspended between a memorable past and an unforeseeable future, we walked, ran, and often waded through student life — searching. Sometimes the search was for knowledge; sometimes, fun; oftentimes, identity. In the process, each individual took his own route. Now we subject to memory our high school days and the fact that we were the best class to hit this campus — The Class of '87.

Jill Perkins, Cheryl Millican, Amy Christy, Veronica Vera, Jeff Burnett, Robert Mitchell, Hilary Thomas, Kristen Shellhorn, Roland Vera, Eric Marquez, Tricia Williams, Gail Gresham, and Cheryl Cheek.

The love between us is very deep.
 The love between us seems hard to keep
 We fight; but still we care;
 Against all odds, that burden we share
 Help each other, we know we must.
 Our guards go up, and yet we trust.
 We laugh, we talk, we share our dreams;
 That shining goal so brightly gleams!
 The road to our accomplishments is one which is steep,
 But still our love runs very deep!

Mrs. Fortner, you are a blessing to us! You've helped us to become responsible, trustworthy, and better, people all around. We love you — VARSITY CHEERLEADERS 86-87

Heather,
These lines from a song express our thoughts perfectly.

Heather Lynn O'Brien

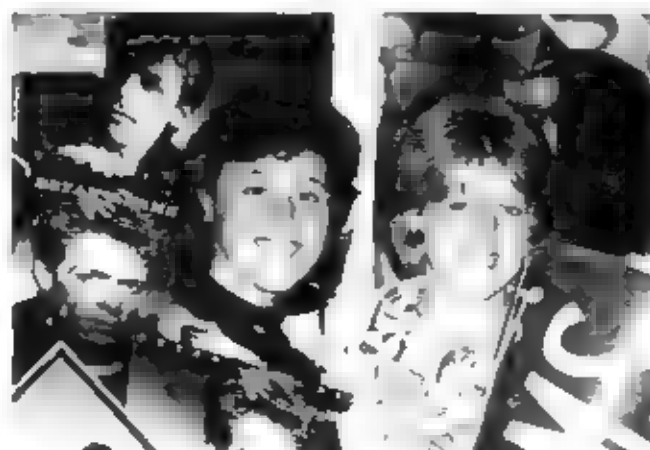

"Just some things we want you to know . . . Along the way did your heart hear us say that you don't have to earn our love? Did we make it clear, were you able to hear, as you slip through our house and our lives, that God has a plan you must understand no matter how much you 'arrive'? Never stop dreaming, keep working and singing, but remember Whose child you are. One more thing — whatever you do — remember we love you!"

If we could control time, would we turn back to the time you were small, speed ahead to see what your future would be, or freeze you as you are today? If we could control time, we would do all three.

Vicki,

You're on life's runway to a bright and happy future. You are special to us a total joy and constant source of pride.

Jim,

Hey?

Well we really don't know each other that well.
(I heard some pretty wild stories.)

Well have a great summer (which I know you will) and ~~and~~ they not to run over anybody? (especially old women)

♡, Christa

Timothy,

This is the woman
you love. I'm telling you, for
